Energize Connecticut to Host Community Appreciation Day

Learn about the importance of saving energy while having fun

What: Join the staff of the SmartLiving Center in a FREE viewing of EPIC as part of an effort to thank the local community for years of support of the center and our events. Refreshments and popcorn will be served for everyone to enjoy.

Those who attend will also be able to learn how they can get on board to help protect the environment through easy-to-implement money saving actions. Call the SmartLiving Center at (203) 799-0460 to reserve your spot!

The Orange location will be closing on June 27. However, during the transition to the new location in North Haven, staff will be available by phone to provide resource information and schedule future site tours. The new SmartLiving Center will feature new and improved exhibits and displays focused on educating and empowering a broad based audience, including both adults and children to make smart energy choices.

Construction of the new center is set to begin shortly, and we will be providing information and updates on www.EnergizeCT.com and at <https://www.facebook.com/energizect>.
